

Resilient Ways Foundation & Resilient Communities Development Service

We provide expert services for new and existing communities. We're currently working on two multi-use real estate development projects in rural communities. Our focus is on flexibility, elasticity, and longevity, or, in short, resilience. We provide real estate development systems, services, and networking tools for community leaders. Our philosophy is voluntaryism, more widely known as freedom.

Team

Jim Davidson is an experienced real estate developer, author, entrepreneur, traveller, & innovator with a long history of disrupting established industries with new ideas and technologies.

Dan Sullivan is an experienced systems developer and chief technology officer with extensive skills in a wide array of software systems.

Our board of advisers is led by Wendy McElroy, the prolific author of books, essays, and articles on the philosophy of freedom.

We also have advisers Paul Rosenberg, Justine Cooper, Carl Mullan, Gabriel Scheare, Greg Barr, and architect Sven Allstrom on our team. Zosia Tomasovna and Tiffany Bibber provide our publicity and marketing expertise.

Imagine a Free World.

Then imagine 50,000 of them!

We're building the foundation, today ...

ResilientWays.net

ResilientWays.tv

@ResilientWays on Twitter

friends@resilientways.net

+1-785-979-3038